

Commercial property at Freiburg's main railway station, Germany

Today, the Freiburger main station presents itself not only as a pure station building, but also as a multifunctional service centre with office and medical practices, retailers and gastronomy. With a total area of around 32,000 m², the station complex is the largest commercial property in Freiburg.