

Heinrich-Völker-Bath, Germany

The combined open-air and indoor swimming pool is the largest bath in Worms. The combination bath offers for the active swimmer as well as for families an interesting proposal for an experience-rich stay.

In this object energy costs will be reduced and simultaneously comfortableness and well being will increase in the premises due to the application of the ventilation system COBAOPT (today: OPENdynamics).

Project details at a glance

DEOS Software

- OPENdynamics

Products and solutions

- OPENdynamics
- OPENenergy